The Response to "Obsession"

Winner:
Special Jury Award

'Obsession' is a superbly made documentary that should propel every American into action. For those people who don't understand the threat posed by Radical Islam, and especially for those people who do understand the threat – 'Obsession' demonstrates in the clearest possible terms that we must stand up and defend our way of life. 'Obsession' is a landmark film that impacts in a way that speeches, books and editorials are just not breaking through to a nation in denial.

The Response to "Obsession"

'Obsession' is one of the most powerful, expertly crafted and undeniably important films I've seen this year. This courageous, utterly gripping exposé deserves the attention of every American -- and merits serious consideration for the Academy Award for Best Feature Length Documentary.

Michael Medved

This is the film the enemy doesn't want you to see. 'Obsession' lays bare the true nature of the threat from radical Islam, and the true intentions of those who embrace it: expansion of their heinous ideology by the sword. This film takes an unblinking look at their past, current, and even more frightening, future actions. For your security and the security of the country, 'Obsession' is a must-see.

Monica Crowley

Crowley Show", Westwood One Radio

The Response to "Obsession"

[Obsession] is a brilliant assemblage of archival footage of radical Islamic barbarities perpetrated across the globe... 'Obsession' is indeed a wake up message to a sleeping American public cowed by fear and menace by radical Islamists in our midst. And yes, the film is distressing that such hate, incitement and barbarity flourishes in the 21st century. But the film rouses the American public into concerted action then it will have served a vital and important purpose.

Jerry Gordon

Former U.S. Military Intelligence officer and Middle East Affairs analyst for American Congress for Truth

Those who think it's possible to negotiate with terrorists will have their worldview shaken, and those who think they understand the enemy will learn something new about how deeply true hatred can run. The sold out 800-seat auditorium was almost completely silent during the film, except for the occasional disbelieving gasp or saddened murmur.

Joe Mariani

Guardian WatchBlog, American Daily, ChronWatch.com, NewsByUs.com, The Conservative Voice, OpinionsEditorials.com

'Obsession' is both scary and riveting! Each and every one of us should feel obligated to show 'Obsession' to as many people as we can. 'Obsession' should serve as a wake-up call to the free world to confront the threat now, before it is too late.

Joel Surnow

Executive Producer "24"

'Obsession' is required viewing for everyone. Especially for people who have tried to understate or ignore the threat of Radical Islam to our national security, 'Obsession' shows how real and present the danger is.

Howard Gordon

Executive Producer "24"

The United States is at war with a virulent form of Islamic fundamentalism. Al Qaeda, Hezbollah and regimes like those in Teheran and Damascus that support them are determined to establish a global Islamic caliphate by the end of this century. 'Obsession' is revealing in its insights into the nature of the enemy and the threat it poses to the West and to Judeo-Christian liberal values. An absolute must see for anyone who values freedom.

Professor of History, Grove City College
Former Director of Research, US Army War College Strategic Studies Institute

The Response to “Obsession”

‘Obsession’ is a thoughtful, hard-hitting, powerful assessment and summary of Global Jihadist ideology/strategy/tactics. The commentary of a former terrorist and a daughter of a suicide bomber is riveting. If one already understands the Global Jihad, ‘Obsession’ affirms and confirms understanding. If one is beginning to learn about the Global Jihad, ‘Obsession’ captures the key concepts in a high quality documentary format.
